

Friday 12th February 2021

Non-Fiction

WALT: publish our work.

3 stars: today you will be publishing your work.

You need to use your edited instructions from yesterday to publish your instructional text. You can publish this in any way that you would like, you could write it up again in your neatest handwriting and add a picture or have a go at typing up your text. After you have written your text, make sure you check for capital letters and full stops.

Please take pictures of these and send them in to the class email page. We can't wait to read your instructions!