

WALT: recycle paper efficiently.

Geography

For your last lesson on recycling, see if you can make an amazing paper hedgehog!

Find an old book (one that you do not read any more) and take off the front and back cover.

Watch the video and follow the instructions for how to turn it into a paper hedgehog which you can then keep next to your books at home!

Miss Hackwood and Miss Johnson would love to see any paper hedgehogs that have been made so if you make one, email a picture over to us so we can add you to the shout out page!

Good luck!
