Street Child

WALT: create a box up plan.

	My Ideas	Your Ideas
Opening	Jim is being taken to the workhouse. He arrives and is separated from his mother.
Build-up	Jim realises what life is like in the workhouse and decides he doesn't want to stay anymore. He discusses with Tip how to escape the workhouse. They come up with a plan together.
Problem	Tip starts to distract everyone at the workhouse so that Jim can escape. Jim is successful and starts to wander around the streets of London. He falls asleep and is woken up by a police officer.
Resolution	The police officer threatens to take Jim back to the workhouse. As he starts to do this, he is distracted by shouting and fighting at the end of the street. The police officer goes over to deal with it and Jim runs in the other direction, escaping from the police officer.
Ending	Jim spends all day running and finally finds himself on a familiar street. He realises that this was the last place that he saw his sisters. He decides to find the house that they were last in.
