Exploring

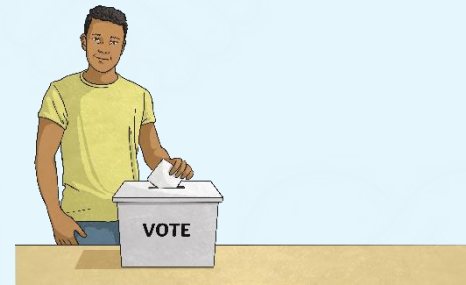

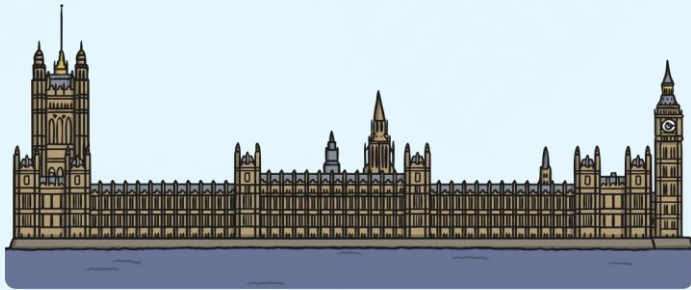

British Democracy

Democracy is a belief in freedom and equality between all people.

Britain is a democracy because it has a government which supports the belief in freedom and equality between all people.

Britain is also a democracy because the government is made up of politicians whom the British people have voted for.

There are basic human rights shared by all people and all societies and protecting and respecting these is an important part of democracy in Britain.

Reflecting

The Importance of Democracy

We live in a democratic society in Britain. Unfortunately, not all people throughout the world live in places where there is a belief in freedom and equality between all people.

How do you think the people in the image might be feeling?
