

The Egg
M. P. Robertson

Opening/Introduction

George knew something wasn't right when he found something strange under his mother's favourite chicken.

The egg started to rumble. Something was hatching, and it definitely wasn't a chicken...

Build-up

George had never seen a dragon before, but he knew that it was his duty to teach the dragon dragony ways.

The first day he taught was flying.

The second day he taught the dragon how to breathe fire.

Climax

One night, as he read from a book of dragon tales, the dragon looked sad.

The dragon was lonely.

The next morning, the dragon had gone. George was sad.

Resolution

But seven nights later, the dragon came back!

George opened the window and climbed onto his back.

They went to the place where dragons lived.

Ending

Finally, it was time for George to leave. George hugged his dragon tight, and the dragon gave a roar. George didn't speak Dragon, but he knew exactly what the dragon had said...

"Thank you."
