WALT: write an opening paragraph with characterisation.

Key features to look out for:

- Capital letters and full stops
- Commas in a list.
- apostrophe for possession — dragon's
- Contractions — didn't

Now use your character profile from Friday to add a description about the new dragon.

When the dragon saw George, it gave a chirrup of delight. George didn't speak dragon, but he knew exactly what the dragon had said... "Mummy."

The dragon had clear, cutting claws, long, lumpy legs and wonderful wavy wings. The dragon's head was as hairy as a mammal.
